Wedding vows exchanged

Two lighted candelabra with baskets of blue roses and white mums, two tall baskets of blue roses and mums and royal blue and white pew markers decorated St. Pauls United Church, Tillsonburg, on November 9, 1985 at 4 p.m. for the wedding of Heather Marie Partlo and Gregory John Hayward. Rev. Tom Hiscock officiated and Ted Winter of Ingersoll was organist. Donna Fuller of Ingersoll, friend of the bride and groom sang Evergreen, Thank You Lord and Perhaps Love during the service.

Jackie Hughes and Heather Ragany lit the candles and Derek Partlo and Tim Hayward were bulletin boys.

The bride is the daughter of Arthur and Marion Partlo of Tillsonburg and the groom is the son of Jack and Doris Hayward of Ingersoll.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white satin, with chapel train, sweetheart bodice and long sleeves in French illusion lace. She wore a bowler style hat with floor-length veil, trimmed in scalloped lace and carried a cascade of royal blue and light blue roses, white carnations, pearls and baby's breath, with trailing needlepoint ivy and satin ribbon.

Maid of honor was Carrie Matejcek of Guelph, friend of the bride and bridesmaids were Paula Colwell, Ilona Bartha, both of Tillsonburg, friends of the bride, and Shannon Partlo of Tillsonburg, cousin of the bride. Natalie Hayward of Ingersoll, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. They wore identical, floor-length gowns in Southern Belle style of royal blue silk taffeta with chapel train, sweetheart neckline and short shirred sleeves. They each wore a large brimmed hat, trimmed with veiling and silk flowers and carried colonial bouquets of blue and white roses and baby's breath with ivy and white ribbon.

Courtney Partlo of Tillsonburg, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a white, chiffon satin and lace, cinderella style, floor-length gown trimmed with royal blue satin ribbon. She wore a halo of white silk flowers in her hair and carried a lace basket of white daisies and light blue rosebuds with royal blue gypsophelia and royal blue ribbon. Flower arches were held by "honorary skaters" Jennifer Fink, Justin Kriwez, Penny Papaioannou, Vanessa Keba, Jonathon Kriwez, Candice Horvath, Kristen Holmes and Sarah Leighfield. The girls wore royal blue skating dresses with knee length skirts and the boys wore white shirts with black pants and royal blue bow ties.

Paul Shaddock of Ingersoll, friend of the groom, was best man and ushers were Max Partlo of Tillsonburg, brother of the bride, Bob Hill of Ingersoll, friend of the groom, Andy Hayward of Ingersoll, brother of the groom and Jeff Biggs of Sarnia, cousin of the groom. Jesse Foster, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

Reception was held at the Community Centre decorated with the arrangements from the church. Bride's table featured a three-tiered, royal blue and white cake, tall tapers with candle bowls with blue roses and sterling silver candleholder with tall blue candles. Guests' tables featured candle bowls with blue roses.

Waitresses were Alana Keba, Jennifer Gofton, Cindy Gofton, Heather Gofton, Jodi Holmes and Lori Altfield.

For receiving guests, the bride's mother chose a cranberry, floor-length chiffon crepe gown with V neck and elbow length butterfly sleeves, worn with daphne iris with burgundy tiger lily corsage. Groom's mother assisted in a floor-length, pink ensemble worn with a corsage of burgundy tiger lilies.

Bride's and groom's gifts to their attendants were sterling silver wine goblets with wedding date engraved.

For a wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a two piece, velvet, cream suit with royal blue accessories worn with a light blue rose corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory John Hayward

DEATHS

The late 'Nifty' Naftolin

Walking into Jack's Department Store, you'd be liable to bump into Isadore 'Nifty' Naftolin. While selling you a brand new suit or dress, he would spend hours talking to you about your family. No matter if you had been in the store once, or even a dozen times, he'd call you by your first name. And perhaps he'd tell you the number of eggs your chicken laid the last time you had chatted together in the store. This was the type of man Isadore Naftolin was: He gave his customers personal service.

Nifty died Monday, May 5 of heart failure, after struggling valiantly against a serious illness for over 20 years. He was 74. He suffered his first stroke in 1950 and had three or four major ones since. Despite this factor, he had a happy life.

Born in Toronto in 1911, he grew up in the big city on a street called Mitchell Avenue. He spent his boyhood and adolescence in Toronto, then went to the University of Baltimore where he studied accounting. There he acquired his nickname 'Nifty,' for his dashing style of dress.

School was obviously not the only thing on his mind: He soon got married in Baltimore in 1934, to Marcia Wartzman (a native of the city).

A few years later, with his wife and their first son, Leigh, Nifty returned to Canada and settled in Ingersoll. There he began working at Oxford Clothing Store. He worked there for 10 years, from 1937 to 1947.

In 1947, he landed a new job, working for his brother-in-law, Ed Alter. Nifty then became manager of Jack's Department Store where he worked for many, many years. Jack's, now owned by Alter's son Lloyd, found Nifty to be an honest and hard worker.

Besides the amount of dedication given to his job, Nifty also worked hard in the community. Among others, he was a member of the Masons and the IOOF.

Nifty came from a large, strapping family of six - two brothers and three sisters. He was predeceased by his sister Dorothy, three years ago. Besides the four remaining brothers and sisters, and his wife, Marcia, Nifty leaves behind three sons, Petty and Stanley of Toronto, and Leigh of Texas, and seven grandchildren.

The funeral service was held Wednesday, May 7, 1986 at 1 p.m. at Or Shalom Synagogue in London, Ontario. Rabbi Hoffman officiated.

Donations may be made in his memory to the Canadian Heart and Stroke Foundation or to Or Shalom Synagogue, 534 Huron Street, London, Ont., N5Y 4J5.

Lattimer-Howe united in marriage

Cheryl Lattimer of Woodstock and Gordon Howe of RR 2, Ingersoll were united in marriage June 21 at College Avenue United Church.

Rev. Melbourne Fisher officiated at the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lattimer of Dundas St., Woodstock and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howe of RR 2, Ingersoll.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white full-length satin dress with fitted bodice and open neck accented with applique and pearls. The gown had straight sleeves, a chapel-length train and a bow on the back.

Her headpiece was a small cap with a floral cascade on one side and a fingertip veil.

She carried a bouquet of orchids, pink tea roses, teal rosebuds and fusia accents, with pearl loops woven in.

Maid of honor was Lisa Salvo of Hamilton, and bridesmaids were Karin Lang and Tammy Sherman of London, and Ruthann Howe of St. Catharines. The female attendants wore teal satin dresses and matching hats. The two-piece dresses were street-length, with long detachable skirts and large bows at one side. They carried bouquets of orchids, pink tea roses and jade accents.

Brad Shulman of Embro served as best man. Ushers were Brian Lattimer of Woodstock, Terry Howe of Ingersoll and Scott Lattimer of Woodstock. The men wore black tuxedos with teal cummerbunds and bow-ties. The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails, and a white vest and bow-tie.

The reception was held at the Embro West Zorra Community Centre. Guests were present from Calgary, Cornwall, Michigan, Thamesville, Woodstock, Lucknow, London, Kirkton, Kitchener, Embro, Stratford, St. Thomas and Hamilton.

The couple honeymooned in Toronto and now reside at RR 4, Embro.

Photographer for the occasion was Nelsons Photography.

Roger McCombe of Ingersoll officiated at the wedding ceremony. Maureen McCullough of Toronto was soloist, accompanied by Harold Rid-dolls of Ingersoll. Classical guitarist Tyler Hawkins, friend of the groom, entertained guests prior to the wedding and during the signing of the register. Lee McWebb, friend of the groom, gave a reading.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a white tea-length '20s style dress of lace and tulle, featuring a horseshoe neckline and tulip sleeves. She wore a headband of braided pearls with clusters of white silk flowers, leaves and drop pearls on each side. She carried an arrangement of sweetheart roses, freisha, gerbern, olstromeria, baby's breath, fern, galax leaves and pearls.

Robin Bourgoyne of Calgary, friend of the bride, was maid of honor, and Allison Hunt of Ingersoll, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical princess style dresses of pale pink silk. Flower girl Bridget McGregor, cousin of the groom, wore a white polka dot dress with peter pan collar and pink sash.

The bridal attendants carried bouquets of varigates pink miniature carnations, fugi mums, olstromeria, star of bethlehem, baby's breath, fern and galax leaves.

Jeff Hunt of London, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers included Ian Gauld of Pennawa, Man., brother of the bride, Dave Clement of London, friend of the groom, and Andrew Hunt of Ingersoll, brother of the groom.

The groom wore a white tuxedo jacket with black pants, cummerbund and bow-tie. The attendants wore black tuxedos, cummerbunds and bow-ties.

The bride's mother wore a pale peach two-piece dress of raw silk, with blossom top and flared skirt. Her corsage was a cluster of pale peach sweetheart roses.

The groom's mother wore a two-piece dress of cream crepe featuring a pleated skirt and lace inserts on the sleeves of the jacket. Her corsage was a cumbidium orchid.

The bridal party was piped from the church by piper David Presswell.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom travelled by surry, provided by Mr. and Mrs. Mac Armstrong of Beachville, to the garden of Lorne and Marie Moon for pictures.

The reception was held at the Quality Inn, Woodstock. Dave Clement was master of ceremonies and Pat McCullough of Toronto proposed the toast to the bride.

The flowers at the church and reception were from Harry Shelton Flowers, Ingersoll.

Guests attended the wedding from England, California, Florida, Minnesota, Texas, Ohio, British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Quebec, Newmarket, Kettleby, Alton, Toronto, Kitchener, Hickson, Woodstock, Sweaburg, London, Kintore and Ingersoll.

The bride and groom honeymooned in Quebec City and are currently residing in Toronto.

Woman killed when blaze destroys home

Fire swept through a house on County Road 7, approximately one and a half miles north of Ingersoll, Tuesday morning, killing one of the occupants.

Dead is 81-year-old Marguerite Hanlon of R.R. 2, Ingersoll. She is survived by her son Leo, who was not injured in the blaze. Mrs. Hanlon and her son were the only residents of the house, which was totally destroyed by the fire.

Members of both the Thamesford and Embro fire departments helped extinguish the blaze which started at about 7:30 Tuesday morning, according to officials from the Woodstock detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. Mrs. Hanlon's body was removed from the wreckage a little over two hours later.

Damage estimates were unavailable at press time, but the house was entirely gutted.

Police and the fire marshall are continuing to investigate the cause of the blaze.

HUTCHINSON: Don and Kim welcome with love the most beautiful Christmas gift, Alasdair William, nine pounds, two ounces, born Christmas Day, December 25, 1986, at Stratford General Hospital. A gift of special joy for brother Iain.

SEASON'S GREETINGS to all! I'm Jennifer Marie and made my arrival at Alexandra Hospital, December 24, 1986 at 3:25 p.m. My petite six pound, 13 ounce frame created quite a stir. Lou Anne and Don will make fine parents and my big brother Matthew was delighted to see me. Grandpa and Grandma (Don and Bea Wolan, Binbrook, Ont.) were tickled pink to have another granddaughter. Special thanks to Dr. Rechner and the fine nursing staff in O.B.
