

TATLER · 1972

In Dedication

With this year's end Annandale is losing four very devoted members of its teaching staff as Miss Grieve, Miss Keeler, Mrs. May, and Mr. Beattie retire. They have each been a part of Annandale for several years and throughout their careers here have imparted their high academic ideals to us as students. All four have remained very close to us through their constant guidance in the classroom and their assistance in our extracurricular endeavours.

Miss Grieve always showed a genuine interest in her students as individuals. In her classes one not only gained knowledge of Latin grammar and literature but of many other facets of education. Her past experiences in living were always warmly shared with her students and a personal dimension was prevalent in her teaching.

Mrs. May had the refreshing ability of presenting a rather impersonal subject such as mathematics in a pleasant manner. Intermingled with cold figures and complex calculations, her light-hearted nature and humour made her classes very enjoyable. Her friendly character and devotion to her subject won her the admiration of all her students.

Mr. Beattie always held a parental concern for each of us. He had the difficult task of keeping us all in line and many of us were probably more closely associated with him than with any other teacher. His constant care and attendance to the students will surely be missed at Annandale in the future.

Miss Keeler was best known in her students' feelings and responses toward the languages she taught. Her complete mastery of the French language and her close personal relation to her subject were reflected in the genuine interest which her students demonstrated.

On behalf of all the students of Annandale we are proud to dedicate this Tatler to Miss Keeler, Mrs. May, Miss Grieve, and Mr. Beattie and extend to them our best wishes for a future of fulfillment and satisfaction.

Imagination and hours of hard work are both necessary ingredients in the production of a successful yearbook.

We have endeavoured to make this Tatler something special, something unique that will implant the year 1971-'72 as a lasting memory in all of our minds.

This year has been a trial year as our enrolment was diminished with the transfer of so many of our student body to Valley Heights, but we have proved that quality is more important than quantity. School Spirit has never been higher and the rewards for the tremendous energy and determination on the part of our school teams has never been more highly deserved.

I personally would like to thank the students and teachers of Annandale who have made this year a perfect ending to a great experience, and I know that I will relive it many times as I leaf through the pages of my Tatler.

I only hope that through our efforts, we have made the year 1971-'72 unforgettable for you, too.

Few people fully realize the steps involved in putting together the Tatler. There are two distinct areas of approach in obtaining the finished book. The first area is that of business concerning mainly the element of finance which necessitates keeping a close record of bills, money obtained from circulation and advertising and making sure that cheques are in the mail to reach the yearbook (in this case Inter-Collegiate Press) in time to meet the appropriate deadlines. Advertising is a very important factor and certainly a hard chore. It involves students walking the streets, knocking on every businessman's door selling an ad in the book. Some have to be visited three or four times, but if enough hard work and persistence is displayed by all the students involved, as was the case this year, it can prove very successful. This year we sold approximately $2,400 in advertising, making up a considerable chunk of the $3,500 cost of producing the book. I would personally like to thank all those students of the advertising staff for their great contribution, and I feel it necessary to single out a few people such as Bryon Long, Howard Teall, Mukesh Gelda, Peter Gibson and Tom Kolfe who brought in a major part of the sponsorships with over-all guidance from Mr. Grose and Mr. Pellizzari making the campaign a complete success.

Of course, for every product there must be a market and for the Tatler you, the students of Annandale are our buyers. You may remember the Circulation Campaign launched in January headed by Jim Hevenor. We'd like to say, Jim, that we appreciate the time and energy you put into the campaign. Of the 500 books that we've ordered, over 400 are reserved. The remainder will go on sale again in the fall, but at the higher price of $4.00.

The other area of which I spoke is the editorial section. The work done by this staff is what you see. In short, we create the book from the initial planning stages and ideas to the actual putting together of the text. The planning of the book and the overseeing of the development and work on it has been my job.

To begin in the fall the staff chose the cover for the Tatler. Also Geoff and I chose the texture of the paper and the kind of type for titles.

Without pictures there would be no book, so thank you John and Tom. Although we had to wait for pictures we always made our deadlines. Doing the layouts consists of allocating places for pictures and copy. It may take a whole night to achieve an effective layout.

At this point I'd like to thank Mary DeBruyn, Dawn Chilton, Mary Wolter and Rosemary Zel who spent endless hours of work on the material. After this Mr. Stover proofreads everything for mistakes. It is quite involved but all of us will have enjoyed the book more for having worked on it. Why don't you get involved next year.

Thank You

The co-editor's duties in assembling a yearbook are not exactly defined. He or she is responsible for all phases of the book. If one job must stand out as a priority for the co-editor it is being an organizer.

It definitely takes more than two people to put together a yearbook. As co-editor of the 1972 Tatler it is my honorable task to thank all those people who have helped manufacture this publication.

Firstly I would like to thank the Business Staff under the guidance of Mr. Grose and Mr. Pellizzari. The Business Staff headed by Bryon Long, canvassed endlessly and as a result they came up with more money, in advertising, than any other year.

I would also like to thank Jim Hevenor and the Circulation Staff for their excellent campaign in selling the book.

The numerous people in the editorial staff that helped type, lay out pages and take pictures deserve a great deal of credit. These individuals were the back bone of the yearbook staff.

Enough praise cannot be given to Mr. A. Stover, our staff advisor, who inspired us and spent countless hours with us.

I would like to thank the Tillsonburg News for the valuable pictures they donated.

Lastly I would like to say thank you to the students of Annandale 1971-1972. Without them there could never have been a yearbook.

Fall

To everything there is a season,
and a time to every purpose
under the heaven:

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

It is an honour for me to congratulate and compliment the editorial staff and their advisors on the excellence of the 1972 Tatler. Your enthusiasm and devotion to this book has been outstanding.

This year four members of our staff are retiring after many years of dedication and devotion.

Miss Grieve has devoted her entire life to the inspiration of young people and has made a significant contribution to the future of these students. We will long remember her.

Miss Keeler and Mrs. May are teachers who have a dedication to their respective subjects. They have demanded excellence and have cheerfully given their understanding and encouragement.

As Mr. Beattie leaves the Annandale office, he will carry with him many fond memories of past students. He has had much to do with the moulding and reshaping of the lives of many students. His absence will be greatly felt in the field of education.

As these four teachers retire parents and students alike will realize their numerous contributions to young people.

To the students who are graduating this year may I wish you the very best in your future endeavours.

Sincerely,

G. E. Rolfe

A MESSAGE FROM THE VICE-PRINCIPAL.

For twenty-two years students have enrolled, and spent from a few months to six years or more at the school on Tillson Avenue known as Annandale High School. In this time several thousand students have come and gone and collectively have established for Annandale a tradition of scholarship, athletic prowess, sportsmanship and school spirit that is among the finest in the province.

Each year the Tatler has published the record of their activities in picture, prose and poetry, and each edition has achieved a new standard of excellence only to be surpassed by the following year's editors. This Tatler is no exception. Congratulations to the editors and the entire staff.

To have been a member of this school for all these years and to have had some small part in the development of the Annandale tradition has been an enriching experience. As I "graduate" this year, I assure you that I shall never forget Annandale and will follow the careers of the graduates of the class of '72 with keen interest. To all the graduates and remaining students I extend sincere good wishes for successful and rewarding lives in the future.

Sincerely,

Valedictory Address 1971

Ladies and gentlemen, honoured faculty, fellow graduates....., there must be an easier way to start but I couldn't find any. I think that some of you feel that your stay at Annandale was too long and you're glad to be out; but it wasn't long enough, one more year and you would have had a new gym floor that was safe to walk on.

I must, in all fairness, compliment the staff of Annandale since, whether we want to admit it or not, a lot of our lives are molded by what we have learned from them. Much of the material they taught us seems to be quite irrelevant, and we will never use most of what we were supposed to learn, but we have spent a considerable amount of time at least in close proximity to them.

I know that I have not suffered by going to this school and I hope that none of you feel that you have suffered too greatly. --I have a little story about a reunion one of the Professors went to that would fit in at this moment. ---- They were all gathered together for dinner when a large, black automobile drove up to the doorway. A chauffeur got out, opened the door, and the student voted most likely to fail stepped out dressed in the best clothes. Now this fellow never seemed to do any good in school; in fact it was a wonder that he even graduated, so the Professor was rather interested in his success. He asked him how he became so wealthy. "Well", he said, "I'm in the manufacturing business and I make these things for a dollar, and then I sell them for five dollars--and boy does that 5 percent add up!"

I'll stray slightly, with the knowledge that there were and are faults at this school; more faults for some than others; but also with the knowledge that we do have some of the best teachers anywhere, (Miss Grieve must be one of the best, for I feel a Valedictorian Address just isn't complete without some mention of her, even though I only took Latin for one year), and that some day some of you may be in the position to change the education system, but do try to imagine what your children will think of your "antique" ideas.

Someone has said, "You can do almost anything to a man." A powerful statement of vanity, but I feel that in many ways this sentence is quite valid. ---I imagine some graduates will swear by this already.--We've had it fairly easy so far. You are already graduates of Annandale High School and three quarters of your life is still ahead of you. If you thought life was unbearable at Annandale then you may never survive.

A few of you have heard me say, "Don't worry about it", but the usual reply to this was, "Don't worry about it! But, ya George, we DO worry about it." I seemed to be always coming up with that statement at the worst possible times. The castle walls of "Camelot" could be falling down and that would be the best I could come up with. The only reason these walls didn't fall down was that someone DID worry. Impossible things are accomplished when there is a deadline. The result can often be in a crude form, but it is still there.

I think Margaret Mead is correct in saying that a little anxiety is good for us. It makes us get things done. I only hope that we don't end up destroying ideas that are essential to life. Improve! Remember our own anxieties can also destroy us, inside and out. --At the moment I can't think of anything worse than a world filled with people suffering from ulcers.

Student Council 1971-'72

Gr. 9 Initiation

Opening of the Gym

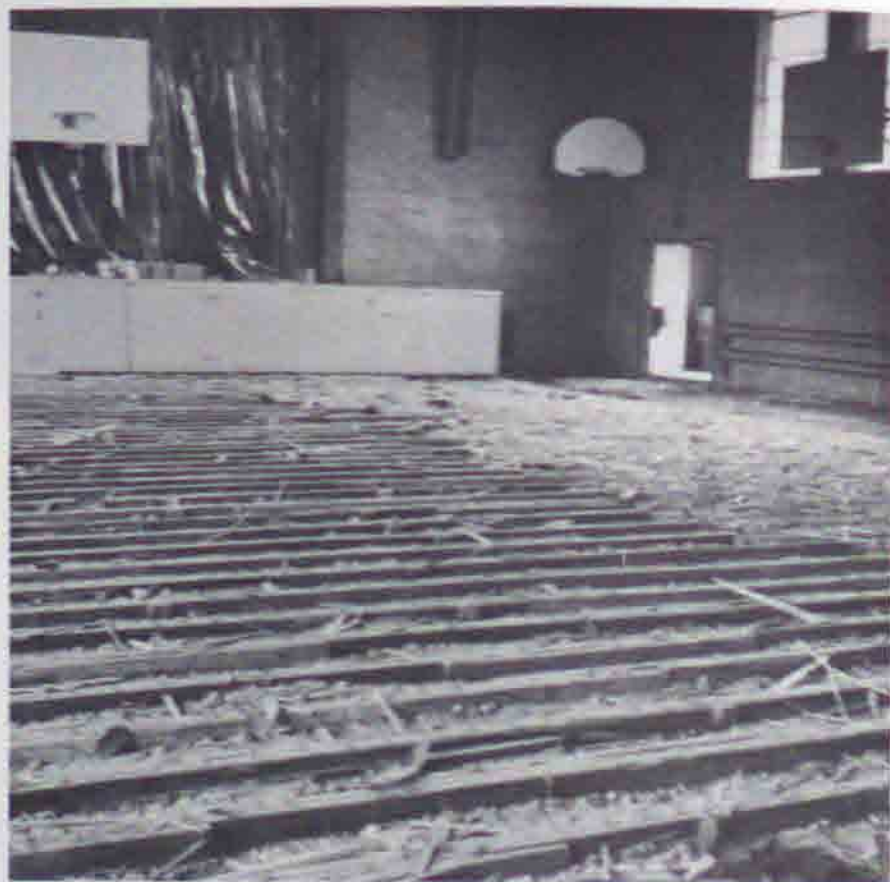

If this school was promised a new gym floor eleven years ago, just think how badly we needed one now. A floor that was as old, creaky and warped as that wasn't much good for anybody, especially our basketball teams, who had a hard time dribbling.

There were no holidays for the gym floor. After the old floor was torn up, it looked like it had gone through world war III. What a mess!

After another summer of hard work and play, school was again back in session, but the gym still wasn't finished. After a short wait the gym was officially opened to the whole school to see on October 13. There were speeches and a ribbon cutting, led by Mr. Rolfe, Barb Balaza, a representative of our student council, and Mr. Linton, the representative of Oxford County Board of Education.

The shiny new floor looked too good to everybody. They had to get on it to get a closer look. An exciting basketball game following the ceremony was played between the senior girls' basketball team and the teachers which resulted in a tie game.

Yes, it was time for a celebration! A wish come true, and it was about time.

Presentations to Mr. Stover and Mr. DeVriendt

The 1971 Tatler was dedicated to Mr. P. A. DeVriendt and Mr. A. R. Stover to honour the end of their ten-year coaching partnership. In the fall of 1971, Jim Hevenor and Bryon Long presented the shields pictured here to the two coaches on behalf of the 1970-'71 Students' Council. Following is the text printed on the shields:

"Presented by the Students' Council 1970-'71 in recognition of Mr. A. R. Stover and Mr. P. A. DeVriendt, who through a dedication to a principle of intelligent hard work have compiled an enviable coaching record from 1961 to 1970 at Annandale High School.

The boys who accepted the Stover-DeVriendt philosophy regarding football have learned through their own efforts, achievements and successes, the values of discipline, self-discipline and pride in oneself.

The boys may forget the scores of the games and their season records, but they will never forget the philosophy of Mr. P. A. DeVriendt and Mr. A. R. Stover, two gentlemen whose names are synonymous with success."

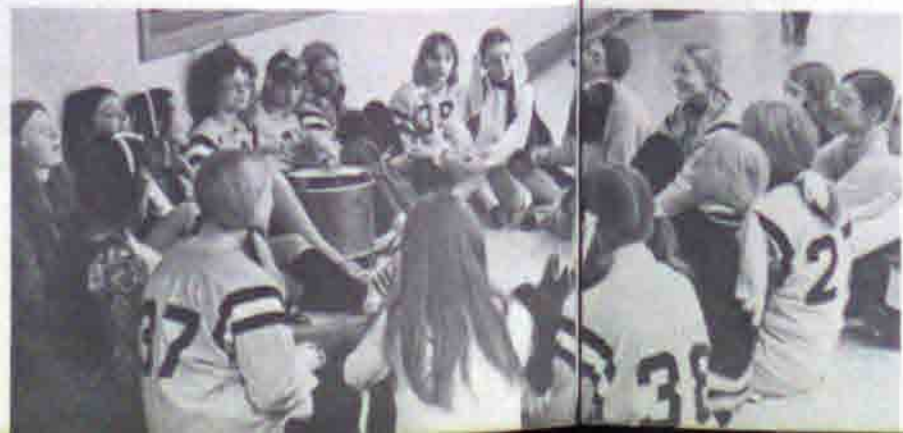

For ten years of our lives, we had the privilege of coaching the best game in the world at the best school anywhere. We will never forget those ten years, nor the boys who played football for us, nor the students and staff members who were part of what happened to all of us.

Because of the small number of boys in the school, we learned that, to win, we had to work harder. We also learned that to survive, we had to care more about one another than most teams and most schools do. In a less violent game, what we learned to feel for one another might be called "love"--man's concern for and involvement with his fellowman.

Neither of us will ever forget this presentation in the gym at Annandale, the last of so many times that our teams stood on the stage. We accept the awards with humility because they are not ours but instead belong to the teams and to the school.

To Student Council President Jim Hevenor and the members of his 1970-'71 Council, and to Geoff Parker and Sandra Drotos, Editors of the 1971 Tatler, our thanks for recognizing what football meant in Annandale during the last ten years. It meant a great deal to us to know that so many others did remember ... and did care.

Sincerely,
Peter DeVriendt
Arnold Stover

*...and the Marauders Win
the Bowl Game
20-14 Over
Arthur Voaden*

The era of Annandale's Senior football team has come to a close. There will be no Senior squad next year because of the lack of boys at Annandale. This year's Senior Marauders picked a fine way to finish Senior football at Annandale. This "Cinderella" team won the Tri-County championship in what was a dream come true for many of the players.

The late harvest caused a late start in practices and there was even some concern that Annandale might not even field a team. With just a few practices under our belts we travelled to Norwich for our first game which we won 12-0 in a rather sloppily played game. Our next two games against Huron Park and W.C.I. ended in our humiliation. We were beaten 33-8 by Huron Park and 14-6 by W.C.I. This brought great joy to the Woodstock teams and chants like "We're No. 1" were heard. This was a most depressing time for our team and we reached a peak of lowness after the W.C.I. game.

Our coaches kept us alive in the next few practices we had. Their psychology of making football enjoyable with work kept the team together. Our next game was at C.A.S.S. whom we defeated 33-14. We then played our crosstown rival Glendale and in a superb game we crushed them 44-0.

We now got a break which we as a team had nothing to do with. Huron Park played Ingersoll and defeated them 8-7. This meant that if we could beat Ingersoll in our last game at home there would be a play-off. The big break occurred when Ingersoll's convert try hit the crossbar and bounced out. We got in the play-off by 3 inches as one thinks back on it.

Before the Ingersoll game Mr. Burleigh wrote on the blackboard 6 points equal home game. This inspired the team into playing a great game and defeating a tough Ingersoll team 20-6. We now had our play-off game with W.C.I. We beat them 14-6 at our home grounds and preparations were made for our journey to Huron Park. Annandale's school spirit at Huron Park was something else as 8 busloads of fans supported us so that we had to do our best. In a fantastic game we beat Huron Park after being down 13-0 at halftime. The final score of this game was 14-13. This was the spiritual high point of the season as we gained revenge for a humiliating defeat.

The Bowl Game was on Sat., Nov. 13 and we got off to a fast 14-0 lead and held on to win 21-14 against a stubborn Arthur Voaden school from St. Thomas.

The Marauders came a long way in one season as many rookies played on this team. If it had not been for the guidance and coaching of two fine men and excellent coaches Mr. Burleigh and Mr. F. DeVriendt we never would have been able to accomplish this. The team would like to express our gratitude to these great coaches by just saying thanks which carries a special meaning from us. They deserve all the thanks we can give them. The team would also like to thank the staff, the student body and especially Mr. Stover for the super support we received this year.

Cheer- leaders

Miss Cheeleader

The Cheerleading squad this year was very successful.

We would like to congratulate all the teams on their great sportsmanship and skill. We were extremely proud to cheer for each of you.

We'd like to thank Mr. Burleigh, Mr. DeVriendt and Mr. Donaldson for the interest which they showed us and their surprisingly strict chaperoning in Strathroy.

The enthusiasm of the student body was an asset to our squad and I would like to wish next year's girls half as much enjoyment and support as we had this year.

Urging the athlete on to victory.
The battle has been won.

This past summer I was given the opportunity of attending the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp on Lake Couchiching. Each girl is shown the way to discover and develop her own leadership abilities through athletics.

Three compulsory subjects taught were basketball officiating, aquatics, and gymnastics, and then we were allowed two options. I chose golf and folk dance.

These subjects were taught each day. Along with these we had three one hour leadership development classes. During these sessions each leader was required to be a chairman once, on at least four committees and be an evaluator for one class.

While at camp I received an International rating in basketball and a swimming badge.

The importance of this camp was not that you excelled individually on all sports but that you developed a sense of leadership which would help you help others to develop their skills when you returned to your school and community.

You meet the nicest girls at camp and you are trained by the best counsellors any camp could ever have. I will always remember my two wonderful weeks at O. A. L. C. as a representative of Annandale.

A first for Annandale's Girls' Basketball Team was accomplished this season. After completing the schedule with two losses to Glendale we advanced to the W.O.S.S.A. "A" tournament where we emerged triumphant. Celebrations began immediately and continued into the wee hours.

Many thanks to our coach Mr. Moir for his long hours and patience. Special thanks to Mr. Ainslie for his physical and spiritual support, and to those very few members of the student body who gave their much needed support.

Junior Girls' Basketball

This season was fairly successful with the Juniors advancing to the Oxford-Elgin championships and the W.O.S.S.A. "A" tournament. During the season we lost only twice, both times to C.A.S.S. In the finals of the Oxford-Elgin, we were again defeated by C.A.S.S.

At W.O.S.S.A. "A", we came up against stiff competition and lost our first game by a few points.

Miss Findlay did a fantastic job coaching. She made a highly successful team out of nine new players who will be back again next year.

Good Luck.
 Ingrid Nemeth.

On July 8, 1971, 32 Annandale students and teachers boarded a much despised Donaldson International Boeing 707 bound for Europe and Russia.

After eight hours of flying time across the Atlantic, we set foot on British soil at Gatwick Airport; thence we were driven to our residence at University College, London. During our eight day stay in the city, daily excursions took us to Windsor Castle, Hampton Court, Piccadilly Circus, Petticoat Lane, Hyde Park, Westminster Abbey and Big Ben, Tower of London, Trafalgar Square and Buckingham Palace where we witnessed the classical changing of the guard.

The continent awaited us so we boarded a cross channel steamer headed for Ostende, Belgium. Brussels has numerous cathedrals and museums to offer. Ghent and the lace capital, Bruges, were also inspected.

Next by train, we headed for the "city of love"... gay Paris. One sensed the French atmosphere to be enlivening. The many sights of Paris were beheld, with a cruise along the Seine River, the Palace of Versailles and the Louvre as highlights.

From Paris, we travelled past Cologne Germany, then on to West Berlin, transferring to the airport in East Berlin and finally arriving in Leningrad July 22.

In many respects, the Russian part of our trip was the most memorable. Snide thoughts of "bugged" rooms, hidden microphones, and anti-photo bus windows never became reality. Military Jeeps carrying soldiers, shabby vehicles and plain dress were common. Faces in the streets were stolid and expressionless. The Russian people seemed curious towards tourists when fears and suspicions unite.

Europe 1971

brilliant spectacle of the Moscow Summer Circus, being sprayed by trick jester fountains, Red Square, Lenin's tomb, the Kremlin, a boat trip along the Moscow River, but personally the most lasting: parachute jumping.

We left Russia after a week.

Flying to East Berlin, then boarding buses, we passed into West Berlin and "freedomville." It had been some time now that a Coke could be indulged in.

Great contrasts between the two parts of Berlin, separated by the Berlin Wall, were witnessed. After passing into East Berlin we were thoroughly inspected at "Checkpoint Charlie."

Back in West Berlin, home seemed a lot closer with "Groovy-cool" people on the sidewalks singing, selling their creations.

During our days in the Netherlands, dykes, reclaimed land, windmills, canals, the largest seaport in the world (Rotterdam), a delft-blue pottery factory and a cheese farm were all inspected. We travelled through most of the country viewing rich, fertile polders containing lush-green pastures for dairy and market garden farms.

Then, from the Hook of Holland, we departed in the direction of Harwich, England, seven hours away.

On August 6, we left Gatwick Airport and for once we were glad to set foot on a Donaldson plane. Our summer saga was over. May we again express our thanks to our two special chaperons, Mr. Rabb and Mr. Ainslie.

Some of us, being more courageous, wore shorts and hot pants astounding the pointing, staring and laughing Russian women.

Moscow was the same in many respects. Lasting memories of Russia are the Palaces of the Tsars, the

New York Trip

On the bus, all the way up and back
Two guys lying on the luggage rack
Getting some sleep, which we all lacked.
During the day we toured all the sights
And managed to reach some fantastic heights.
The Empire State Building was the highest we got,
The Broadway shows we liked a lot.
Radio City Music Hall found us in the rear
When Danny Kaye suddenly appeared.
The night life, though, I admit, was the best
And contributed a lot to us having no rest.
But, what the heck, you only live once.
And there's nothing wrong with getting a little
But the most important was the educational side
That was hard to hack, but we really tried.

The group as a whole would like to sincerely thank Mr. & Mrs. Leachman for all the work which they put into the trip and for having so much patience with us. Thanks again.
