

A Message From the 1}rincipal

MR. J. D. McPHERSON Principal

This year marks the third time that I have sat down to write a Principal's statement for the \mathbf{Ann} -. This year also marks the ninety-ninth birthday of Canada. In relationship to other schools we are new; in relationship to other countries we are young; like other schools we are experimenting, testing and seeking; like other countries we are disturbed, worried and confused. We shout school spirit aloud without being sure exactly what that means and we shout Canadianism aloud without being sure what the implications are.

But at this point our comparison must cease, and Glendale like other schools must assume its rightful place in preparing students for a role in the nation's greatness. From our graduates in the Arts and Science, the Occupational, Science, Technology and Trades and the Business and Commerce, must come the nation's workers and leaders. Old fields are closing up, but new areas of excitement and *challenge are before our students.

Too often, I believe, we are prone to talk, almost with fear, about the future. I would like to challenge you with these words of a Roman poet quoted in a bank monthly letter. "Let ancient times delight other folk; I rejoict that I was not born till now."

What opportunities! To find new uses for the atom, to press back the borders of Man's knowledge, to bridge gulfs of hatred, fear and hunger. But you will not be alone, for behind you will be the Indomitable Spirit of Man to push on I

"For the breeze }las spoken strangers, with a stirring tale to tell,

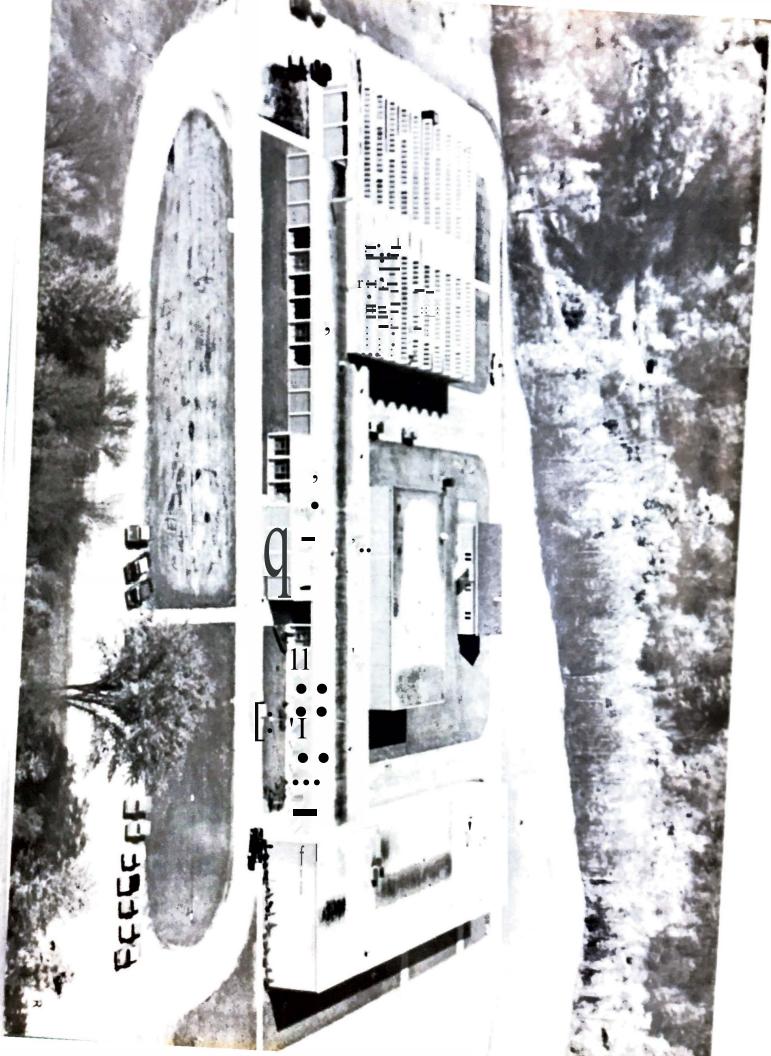

And a thousand eager voices flung the challenge out to sea;

Come. they hither in the old way, in the only way that's free?"

(R. A. Hopwood)

Let us resolve to contribute from our school rruth, Honesty, Dedication, - so that this nation of ours will be better because we have passed through the halls of Glendale during this exciting age.

Lastly, to the editors, Elai- and Ron and all the other students who have contributed time and effort to this edition of the Annona; and to the other school events - congratulations. May your efforts be rewarded by a "Harvest of Memories" for you and all the student body.

The Editor, Staff and Faculty Advisor are to be congratulated on another fine edition of your year book. The contents once again indicate that many hours have been spent in its preparation and to the student body it will re:all their achievements in the class, athletics and extra-curricular activities. Your School Board members are proud of your records and as their chairman I have pleasure in conveying their congratulations.

The challenges in to-day's world are great and the opportunities arc many. However only those who are prepared to give their best in all their undertakings achieve success, happiness and the respect of their fcl!ow students. This comes about from Javing pride in oneself, his home, community, school and country. We of the School Board ran only assist you to the possession of this pride by makin available to you the best teachers and scho:il facilities; then our pride and that of your teachers come, from your achienements.

My closing remarks I feel are those of each member of the School Board. We wish you all success niw and in the future. May your endeavours bring to each of you satisfaction and happiness.

A Message jfrom tbt Vict=il}rinctpal

It is a pleasure to be able to write a few words for the Annona. Since my arrival at Glendale High School I have been continually impressed with the fine capabilities of Glendale students in all their areas of endeavour, and I am sure the ,.._., will prove to be no exception.

Robert Burns wrote:

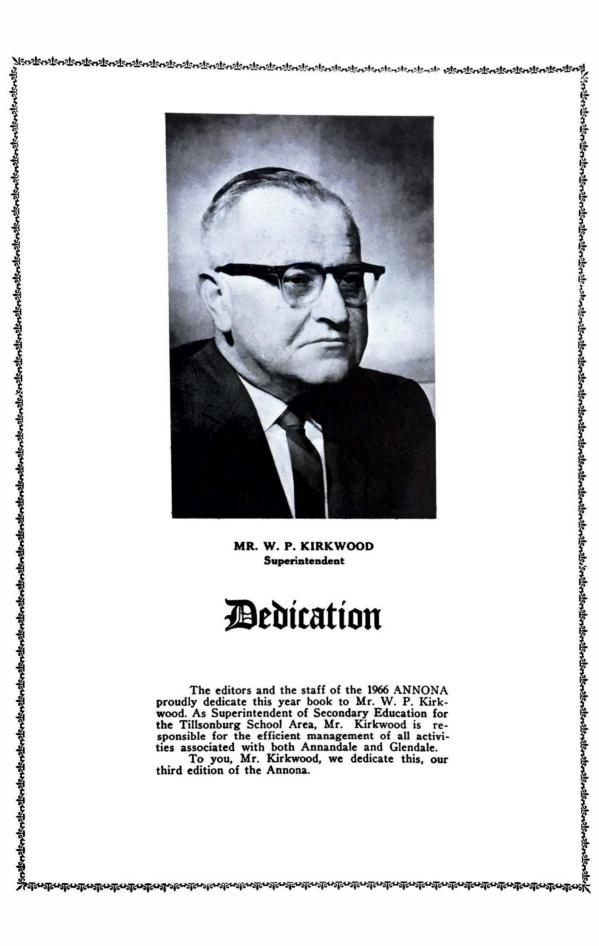

"O would someone the gifts gie us

To see ourselves as others see us."

Education should give us that gift. As we learn, now here at Glendale and in later years, at whatever post-high school courses or jobs we pursue, we should be acquiring insight into humanity and ultimately ourselves. In the age of automation, you will have the time for introspective thinking and self-realizat; on that in other ages was the prerogative only of the very wealthy. To use this time to your own real satisfaction will be your problem. I hope that your continuing education will equip you to meet that problem.

This 1965-66 school year is the third birthday of the Glendale year book, the Annona.

With each successive year and each new edition both the school and the book have expanded and developed. This year our format has been broadened to include for the first time recognition of the two-year Occupational graduates. They and their fellow Glendale graduates are about to enter a new society, a society of incredible scientific and techno! Qgical growth and development. In some not-too-distant future they may find themselves assisting in some way Man's flights to the moon, his growing of crops on the sea bottom and, hopefully his emergence into world peace.

Another aspect of the Annona this year is the broad coverage it has given to the activities of the Student Administrative Council. Under the capable direction of Mr. O'Rourke, the council served its students well and enkindled in them a bright flame of school spirit. Much credit must be accorded the council prime minister, Jim Ball, who, with able ass:stance from his fellow council members, has done much to encourage all the students to avail themselves of the opportunities to participate in many school activities.

Sports coverage in the Annona has been expanded to record the fine performances of our school teams. Again the technical students have made considerable contributions to our athletic ;,rogramme, particularly on the football, basketball, and volleyball teams.

Scholastic achievements are also presented in our year book with pride in the academic accomplishments of our students. This year's commencement exercise found our four-and-two-year students receiving a majority of the scholastic awards.

We feel that the investment you have made in your year book will, in years to come, provide substantial returns. At some future time you can leaf through this book and reflect on those things which compise high school life: the pretty girls you took to the dance, the classroom "brain", the "athletic hero", the "dunce", the "show-off", your favourite teacher - all the aspects of your years at Glendale High School.

Finally we want to thank everybody who contributed his time, effort, and talent which has made this publication possible. Particular thanks must go to the $A_{\text{N N O}}$ na staff who worked so hard in compiling the year book and to Mr. F. R. Kuhl and Mr. J. N. Scott, who supervised the work and spent many hours proof-reading the material.

It has been a most rewarding experience working as editors of your year book. We hp e that you will enjoy every page of this, your third edition.

The Crowded Hope

Allow me to introduce myself. I am XM-7, Historical Data Recorder. The following is an excerpt from the Captain's report submitted to me on this date.

- and the lush green of the Planet URTH II was indeed a surprise to my crew and me. The artifacts found by us only made us regret e\en more that we could bring nothing back with us, but due to -

Captain Kaine revived slowly and found everything a blur before his eyes. Then things began to clear in his head. He was aboard the Challenger III, third probe beyond the solar system, and his ship must now be slowing from Stellar Drive to normal space.

"Alert all crew members to report in on revival," he instructed his automatic memo carrier.

"Second officer Jon reporting from navigation, Sir," came a clear, crisp voice from the intercom.

"Get our correct position and plot a course for our target URTH II!" snapped Captain Kaine. "Roger!" was Jon's quick reply.

"Ship's galley and freight storage all A-Okay," came the voice of Matty Budget, the ship's only plain crewman.

"Right, Matty, how are you feeling?"

"Not bad Capt'n, not bad," came the reply.

"Reporting in, Captain," Joan, the ship's biological engineer stated briskly; "I've finished checking the medical supplies and they seem to b e - " $\,$

"Sir, Sir," broke in Jon, in quite an excited voice, "something seems to be wrong with the ship's radar. Everything seems to be working all right but I am not getting any returns."

"Check it again and I will have Matty go down and check the generators."

After a moment's pause Matty reported that all was in order and that the generators were working properly.

"Meet me at navigation, Matty, and bring the rest of the crew with you. It looks like we may have antenna trouble outside but we had best check everything on the navigation deck first."

All the crew gathered and final tests were run. Everthing appeared normal but still there was nothing on the screen.

"How am I going to set a course without any radar observations to go by?" thought Jon.

The captain was a wise old sea dog, though, and he soon had the answer. "\Ve will use a sextant," he concluded.

They all headed to the forward viewing port when the captain blurted, "Open the radiation shields"

A sudden awe fell over the group as they peered into the black void beyond. "There isn't anything there!" cried Joan in bewilderment. They all stood speechless and the fact began to sink in. There wasn't anything out here!! But the other expeditions, their reports of green worlds, of supposed traces of other life. Could these reports have all been lies. Why?

"I understand," said the captain. "How do you tell a million billion people that they have spent a million billion dollars to try and get off an overcrowded planet that there is no hope? The captain an upright, honest product of the finest in mankind, now had a decision to make.

He could tell the truth and drown the people's hope in despair or return to lie and give them hope anew.

Thoughts

When comes the time of sweet sorrow to pass
I think of days gone by, both good and bad
Of times of troubles, woes, cares, and-my class
Remember, when they called us friends and grads
The times we skipped, to waste the days away
Days for the games our special dances past
The new, the bold, the young and nearly grey
They think of these great times always to last.
And then way back before we entered school
Those days we'd fight then be the best of friends

We'd use a toy or two as friendship tools
Those teary eyes and broken hearts always mend.
These times have been the greatest of your past,

Pm sure for these you undertook great tasks.

A Distant Cry

Harry opened the door to his home and no sooner did he shut it than his wife Helen, with one of his sons in her arm and the other six children tagging behind her, came screaming out at him saying something about being late. Harry ne\cr really heard what she said; he nc\cr rcaliy listened. After fourteen years of her continuous nagging and complaining, he knew what to expect after he came home.

As they all sat down to their supper of leftover stew, Harry began looking at his se\cn children with their sad faces and skinny bodies. Just then he was snapped back by his wife's shrill voice.

"There was nothing but bills, bills, bills in the mail today," she rasped with a harsh voice.

"Where arc you going to get the money to pay for them? Do you realize we're three ,nonths behind in our rent:"

"Stop it! Stop it!" Harry screamed violently. He quickly got up and stormed out of the door. He jumped into his car and started driving, where he did not know.

As he drove, he kept hearing her voice screaming at him, nagging at him. He saw his seven children again with their mournful, quiet faces, afraid to speak. A voice crying, "Money, money, money" kept piercing his cars until it almost drove him insane. His eyes glared like a madman's and without realizing it, Harry was driving at an incredible speed.

At the same time, the New York Central was leaving the station and making its way through the nigh•.

Harry kept his hands clutched tightly to the steering wheel as his eyes glared infinitely through the window of his car.

At home, everything was quiet. Helen was sitting alone convincing herself that Harry would walk in any minute.

"Where could be be?" she asked herself, "Oh I I wish we wouldn't always fight like this." Helen was now quietly crying, thinking how really lucky she was to have Harry.

At that moment on the other side of the city, Harry had dri.en stnight into the path of the New York Central A loud crashia α solllid was heard; then all was quiet.

Through the dark, damp night only one IOUd could be heard, but then ander a mau of metal a faint Yoke could be distinguished, a distant cry.

"Help!" w u all it sa.id.

A Look at Glendale

Now I lay me down to sleep, I put my history book at my fret, Even though I flunked mr test, Tell Mr. Surtees I tried my best.

My English I know but not very well, To me MACBETH ne, or rang a bell Poor Mr. Kuhl says with only a mere, Veil, if not now, mayoe next year.

Bookkeeping to me 1s really something, I try to learn but I'm not really thinking. My marks are good but not the best, Just think after next year Mr. Kish can rest.

Sir Isaac Pitman, the man of all times, His shorthand to us is like walking in mines. We're in the dark all through the class. Oh, Mr. Moore, please gi, e us a pass!!

In typing we're great and only the best, \Ve stick to the topic and never protest. Mrs. Oatman we try, though never succeed, Our speed tests on Thursday we don't really need.

Now we mustn't forget about precious Phs. Ed., Our class this year was really dead. Mrs. Morris she was really great, Always available, nc\er late.

These arc some classes at Glendale High, The teachers were great but me, oh my. The work wasn't hard that we had to do, Too bad the year's over and all so soon.

I dedicate this to Mr. McPherson, As we all know he is quite a person. He led us to right, directed from wrong, We're grateful we had a man so strong.

PRIZE ESSAY

Centennial Spirit Can

Come From Youth

Peace marches, demonstrations, ban-the-bombers, "peace-niks," "vietniks" - these are all things which are talked about in acute shade.; oi agreement or disagreement by different rwple. But whether a person considers these things ;s helpful or harmful, he usually does agree that 'hey are manifestations of a new spirit which has Ceveloped among our youth, a new awareness oi the national situation and their role in it.

It's true that many older people feel, however, that our youth do too much talking and do iot take the initiative when they have the chance. Many also feel that they are using the world situation as a "glorious cover-up" for another aim which is to strike out against law and order and upset the status quo in whatever way they can.

The upcoming centennial provides an excellent opportunity for young leaders to silenc1) criticism by showing that this new spirit is both responsible and beneficial, not something that 'Is turned on in front of newspaper reporters or the American Embassy.

In most centres across Canada we hav.: shown that we lack everything which resembles ardor for Canada's hundredth birthday. This fact was brought out in London recently when only allout forty people turned out at an open Centennial Committee meeting.

Nevertheless, patriotism is strong in Canada. Two World \Vars have proven that in the 11ast The attention which we give to any issue which may not be in our best interests pro, es it today. Yet many of us are afraid to display any emotion openly. Something is needed to spark Canadians to action and expose their true feelings. An outspoken and all-encompassing enthusiasm adopted by our young men and women could be just the thing to do it.

Here they will ha\e a goal towards which they can direct all their powers of speaking, <lehating and fun-making. Here they will have all attainable goal and a chance to do something constructive in a time short enough so that they can sec their results and effects. Here they will have a chance to show jus who are the country's true leaders.

A chance like this comes only once in a hundred years!

DOUGLAS McPHERSON, SA-IIA.

The Green and Gold Of Glendale High

(alln11 to "Skip To M,. Lou M,. Darline")

We are the boys from Glendale High, The mighty Griffins of Glendale High, And we're gonna fight for Glendale High, The Green and Gold of Glendale.

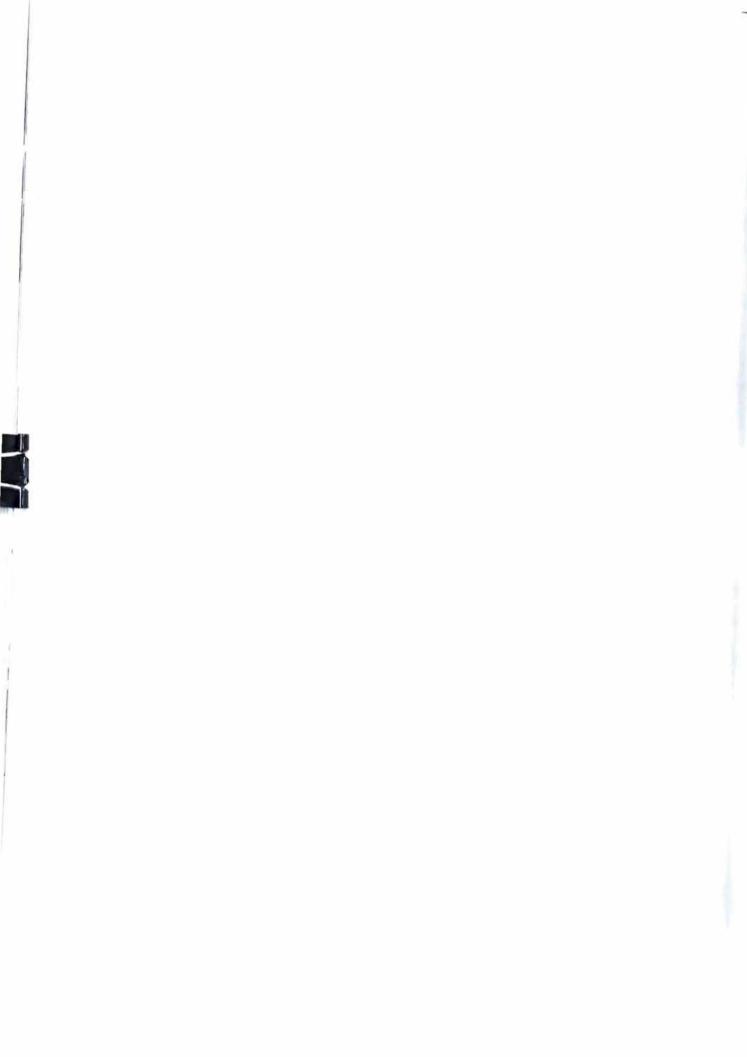

\Ve have a team, the Green and Gold, \Ve have a team that's brave and bold, \Ve have a team that they can't hold, The Green and Gold of Glendale.

When a hundred years have come and gone, And Glendale still is going strong, Wc'Jl be shouting loud and long For the Green and Gold of Glendale.

Glendale Curling

This year's curling has received more response from Glendale students than during any other year. It was the first time that we have had a club separate from Annandale.

Every curler received expert instruction from Mr. Kuhl and Mr. Parker every Monday and Thursday.

We had many chances to try our hand in competition and we competed in Tillsonburg and at clubs in the surrounding district. Although none of our teams brought home a trophy, they came extremely close and had a good day of sport.

Everyone this year was placed on a rink and under his skip participated in a series of games to determine the top rink at Glendale. The rink skipped under Dennis Scott with Linda Pearce as vice-skip, George Eitel second and Robin Dreyer as lead came first. The rink which was runner-up consisted of Larry Dobbs as skip, John Deeg, Walter Hornick and Jill Eacott.

We hope next year there will be even more support from the students for this very exciting game.

Senior Football

The Senior Griffins dropped the opening game of the Tri-County schedule to A.V.S.S. 25-15.

The Greenmen opened the scoring in the first quarter with a punt by Blair Breddy for a 1-0 lead. Then Tony Lileikis caught the A.V.S.S. ball carrier behind the line to move the score up to J·O for the Griffins. The A.V.S.S. Vikings then rebounded with two swift T.D.'s to make the score 12-3 for them. Terry Lamb, quarterback, threw a pass to Rick Parrott in the end zone to make the half time score 12-9 with the Vikings in the lead.

The only scoring in the third quarter was made by A.V.S.S. when a Griffin pass was intercepted and run back for a IS-yard T.D. The Vikings now had a 19-9 lead.

In the opening moments of the last quarter the Vikings made one more T.D. The Griffins replied when Dave Dodsley reversed around left end for a SO-yard T.D. making the final score a 25-15 loss for the Griffins.

Defensively, Ivan Lockey, Tony Lileikis, Rick Todd, and Bruce Leighfield shone for the Griffins.

The Senior Griffins were well handled this year by Mr. Masterson and Mr. Coyle.

In their second game of the season the seniors were defeated by their cross-town rivals 33-0.

The end of the hard hitting first quarter showed a 7-0 score for the Black Marauders.

The second quarter proved to be a deadlock with neither team scoring.

The third quarter, after a few swift plays by the Marauders, changed the score to ZOO The Griffins were still scoreless.

The fourth quarter ended on a victory for A.H.S. with a score of 33.0.

On the defensive side, Ivan Lockey and Dave Dodsley supported the Green crew well with hard hitting dives into the A.H.S. lines. Dodsley on offensive made 54 yards in five carries.

The Senior Griffins at a home game posted their first win with a 12-6 verdict against EtSt Elgin's Purple Flashes. The Griffin offensile line used a successful aerial attack to outclass the EtSt Elgin crew 235 yards to 120 yards overall.

Dave Dodsley made the first T.D. for the Greenmen with a 25-yard reverse run. The convert attempt failed.

The Purple Flashes narrowed the margin be 6-3 with a field goal at the end of the first quarter.

A second field goal ended the half (the score at

The third quarter 1>roved scoreless wither team gain;ng points.

In the fourth quarter Blair Breddy went up the middle for two 10-yard blasts allowing Max Partlo to heave a 57-yard T.D. pass-and-run effort to Terry Lamb. The score ended 12-6 with a victory in the Griffins' laps.

Defensive standouts were Ivan Lockey, Bruce Leighfield, Fred Burgoyne, and Tony Lileikis.

In the fourth game with lineman Fred Burgoyne playing a major role the senior Griffins recorded their second win in another defensive-dominated battle.

Burgoyne went over the line for the first major of the game early in the opening quarter when Blake Long knocked a punt into Titan territory. Burgoyne scooped up the ball and unmolested by the opposing team went over the line for a 7-0 edge for the Greenmen.

Fred Burgoyne again showed well when he blocked a punt and recovered the ball on the 1-yard line for the Griffs. Max Partlo then barged into the end zone to make the score 13-0. Late in the fourth quarter C.E.C.I. recovered the ball and four plays later narrowed the half-time score to 13-6.

No scoring ensued in the second half leaving the victory in the hands of the Greenmen with a 13-6 verdict. Heading the Griffin defensive unit were Fred Burgoyne, Ivan Lockey, Blake Long and Rick Todd.

In their fifth game the senior Griffins came out with their third loss of the season when they met with hard-hitting S.T.C.I.

We regret that a complete rundown of the game is not possible as records are missing. But the Greenmen fought hard against the well organized, overwhelming S.T.C.I. team. Even after strong resistance on the Griffin defensive and valiant attempts by the offensive line, the game ended with a 44-0 victory for S.T.C.I.

In their last game the Seniors lost the 1965 Tri-County finals to A.V.S.S. Vikings.

The Griffins finally got rolling in the third quarter with a 15-yard T.D. pass from Terry Lamb to half-back Max Partlo. The convert attempt failed.

Vikings gained control of the ball and dominated the game to a 33-6 victory in the fourth quarter.

On the offence it was a good game for Dave Dodsley who gained 132 yards. Defensive line• backers Bruce Leighfield, Ron Dalby and defensive centre Fred Burgoyne worked hard for the Griffins.

PHIL ASPDEN 4S-12A

SENIOR BOYS' VOU.EYBALL

We did not win as many games as we might have, but it was a successful year in that we had fun and also gained valuable experienct. In exhibition games we lost only one game to our crosstown rivals.

In tri-county competition at St. Thomas we lost in a series of closely contested games.

Team members were as follows: Don Barnard, Ray Bentley, Murray Breen, Richard Breit, John Byrnes, Stephen Harris, Bob Hay, Ronson Sandham, and Wayne Todd.

The team would like to thank its coach, Mr. R. Findlay, for giving freely of his time and know-ledge on its behalf.

WRESTLING TEAM

Senior Girls' Basketball

This year the team proved to be very successful. The first game was played with our acrosstown rivals, Annandale. The game was close with Glendale winning 38-37. The second game was a home game with Aylmer. Glendale also won this 41-21. Next we travelled to Simcoe. Here we lost our first game 28-26. The next Friday Simcoe returned to Glendale; this time we beat them 18-15 The next game we travelled to Aylmer and won 26-15. For our last game Annandale came to Glendale. Again it was a very close game with Glendale winning 28-27. Glendale now had first place in its division. Our next game was the Tri-County emi-final with S.T.C.I. Glendale lost by three points to end its basketball season.

The following made up the team: Dianna Seres (captain), Grace Clark, Peggy Jacob, Rosemary Tilton, Cathie Carle, Connie Epple, Sandra Wilson, Betty Davidson, Lynda Howard, Linda Schne:der, Sue Doncff, Brenda Boyd and Barbara Andrews.

We would like to thank !rs. Scott for coaching us.

GIRL OFFICIALS

To win an Official bar a girl has to r_e feree four volleyball games and four baskctball gain e_s throughout the school year. These games may be either out-of-town, home or interform contests.

The following girls successfully fulfilled their duties in this manner:

Elaine Hallows
Rosemary Tilton
Peggy Jacob
Judy Kirk
Cathie Carle
Brenda Boyd
J cannette Troyer
A job well done, girls!

Junior Girls' Basketball

Glendale had a perky junior basketball team this year. Although we won only 2 out of 6 games,, we were still full of pep. The team consisted of Cathy Riach, Ann Graham, Cathy Lambdon, Beverley Kennedy, Janno Luy.pacrt, Coral Bamford, Joanne Hurley, Diane Pettman, Cathy Davidson, Karen Bolore, Lynda Kotchabaw, Mary Mooney, and Marlene Barrie. Scorer for the team was Nancy Plant. Our manager was Sharon Braun.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank Mrs. Morris for coaching us. Also may I thank all those who came out and supPortcd us at the games.

GIRLS' INTERFORM BASKETBALL Grade t

The competition was keen. The suspense was sometimes thrilling, what with our forwards - Lesley Wallace, Linda Newell, Deborah Sage, Linda Leach. The speed and action caused grim exhaustion. But, to back them up were the defense-playing guards - Patricia Nagy, Debbie Howard, Elizabeth Moore, Bertha Hawkins.

Call it luck or sheer fate, we were fortunate enough to win all our games. Of course, the penalties seemed to come our way quite frequently but we all thought the referees had glass eyes I Mrs. Scott stood by ready to give her able assistance whenever needed.

So we arc off to a good start and we hope to do even better in the future I

GIRLS' INTERFORM BASKETBALL Cna 11

With much enthusiasm the girts of SA-IOA this year set about to win both interform basketball and volley-ball. But after being defeated in volleyball in the semi-finals, we came back with even greater determination and fight to win inter• form basketball. Since all the games were very close we had to be alert and ready for every pass. .Our interform team consisted of the following girls who were full of pep and out to do their best: Nancy Goodlett, Susan Bailey, Susan Shibley, Suzanne Saxby, Margaret Grmuska, Elizabeth Smith, Ruth Alward, Sharon Barham, Mary Mooney, Nancy Plant, Mary Lou Parrott, Diane Jeffery, Doris Paquette, Diane Pettman, Marlene Barrie, and Lynda Howard. Although the games were rough, it can't be said that we all didn't enjoy partidpating.

Senior Volleyball

Our senior girls' volleyball team got off to a roaring start this year. After many practices and hard work (50 fingertip push-ups a practice), we played our first exhibition game against Delhi. We won. We then began our tournament which consisted of two sets of games at three different schools. Each time we played against two different schools. The results were as follows:

At Cou.p A--. Wooilltock

Glendale vs College Avc.	Glendale	won
Annandale vs Glendale	Annandale	won

At Aneedele

Annandale-	vs Glendale	Glendale	won
Simcoe vs	Glendale	Glendale	won

At Gw+b

Simcoe vs Glendale	Glendale	won
Woodstock vs Glendale	Glendale	won

As you can sec we only lost one game. This was to our rival, Annandale, but we came back later and defeated them. We placed first in our division; therefore we went to the final tournament for tri-county.

At Aylmw

S.T.C.I.	VS.	Glendale	S.T.C.I.	won
C.E.C.I.	V 5	Glenda	Glendale	won

Annandale vs Glendale Annandale won

We had a bad day and only won one set of games. S.T.C.I. came out on top defeating Annandale for the championship. We would like to thank our coach, Mrs. M. Scott, for her time and effort on our behalf.

Junior Volleyball

The junior girls' volley-ball team fought hard this year but unfortunately did not bring any trophies to GLENDALE.

This year the team was composed of the following: Marlene Barrie (captain), Joanne Hurllcy, Lynda Ketchabaw, Beverley Kennedy, Lorenanc Ru(icnis, Jannc Luypaert, Coral Bamford, Ann Graham, Cathy Lambdon, Cathy Riach, Brenda West, and Jo-Anne Crossett.

As for our games, we won three and lost three. We won against Simcoe twice and once against College Ave., from Woodstock. The two games we lost to Annandale and the one game we lost to W.C.I. were very close and could have gone either way. Better luck next year, team.

On behalf of the team, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Scott, our talented coach, for her time and suidance.

Mr. O'Rourke and Mrs. Oatman cannot be thanked enough for their assistance to the Student Parliament. Mrs. Oatman helped our Minister of Finance keep track of the Student Parliament's finances. Mr. O'Rourke aided the S.A.C. by making suggestions, such as having bands at the school dances. He also gave us the help we needed at the first of the school year to get the Student Parliament going.

The students of Glendale this year have shown they are willing to support the Student Parliament. There have been many willing helpers to decorate the gym for dances and to help take down decorations after dances are over. There was also a large number of students that helped with the annual car wash in th fall.

May I extend a specta 1 thank you to the teachers that chaperoned the school dances. They

The annual transhumance of Glendale craduatea IIP the mountain of education has been repeated a pin this year. Regretfully, those going on to Grade XIII tnadged over to Annandale in September 111 to our surprise we have found out that Annandale isn't so different after all. Annandak advocates the same ideals as Glendale does. Apparently no matter what the exterior of a school indicatu, the work and purpose in the interioc arc the same.

Tbote who have gone to Annandale from Glendale have certainly not been unfaithful. Glendale 1nds still cheered on the Griffins even if th<y were on the opposing team. Youth Travel Programme

In the summer of 1965 Larry Helbrook, Glendale's representative in the Youth Travel Programme, made a tour of British Columbia and Ontario. The following is the text of the letter sent by Larry to Mr. McPherson, outlining the group's activities.

Mr. J. D. McPherson,
Principal, Glendale High School,
Tillsonburg, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

Having been chosen Glendale's representative in the Youth Travel Programme, I would like to submit the following account of the group's activities.

On Monday, July 5, the group met at the Brantford Y.M.C.A. for instructions and then precceded to the C.N.R. station to leave for Toron:. Upon arrival in Toronto we boarded our own private car on the C.N.R. supercontinental train for the trip west. We arrived at Kamloops, B.C., at approximately midnight Thursday, July 8, where we boarded a bus for the final leg of our journey. We arrived at our destination, Kelowna, B.C., at 5:00 a.m. Friday, July 9.

I was billeted with the Delhi representative, Dan Kwasnica, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard. At noon the group was officially welcomed by Kclowna city officials. That evening we wtro entertained at a special beach party. Except for a tour of the logging industry and a trip to scenic Roger's Pass, the rest of the week was left free for oar hosts to entertain us. During this time I met many wonderful people and had a thoroughly enjoyable time.

On Thursday, July 15, we departed for home and arrived in Brantford at $:00 p.m. Sunday, July 18. Wc found a rrcat deal of time for interesting discussions oo various topics during the lona train ride. I feel that many of these were extremely beneficial to me.

Then on Thursday, July 22, our billets from Rocky Mountain House, Alberta, arrived. That eveninc the whole group wa, taken to the Stratford Festival to view Falalaff. The next afternoon the croup toured Brantford', large Massey-Ferguson plant and that evening a barbecue was held at the home of one of the hosts near Waterford. On Monday an excursion was taken to Niap_ra Falls. Tuesday we were taken up in a small aircraft over Brantford and Wednesday a tour of the Parliament Buildinrs and a trip on the Toronto ferry concluded our scheduled prorradlillt-Thursday evening, July 29, the Alberta group departed by train for home.

This trip proved very beneficial to me bcc use of the friends I made, the wonderful discus $1000 we had, and for the pure fun of it all. I would strongly urge grade eleven and twolve Itudonts to alm for this honour during the next town years this programme is being undertaken.

In closing, I would like to extend to and the other staff members who the y':c 10 rcpresrnt Glendale, a sincere thank you 1" appreciation of this honour.

Respectfully sub&nittd, .: L'\RR\" HOLBR()()

Open House

On Thursday evening, April 21, the students and staff of Glendale High School were hosts for an Open House, an annual event which highlights a full spectrum of worthwhile activities at the school.

Classroom displays were used to indicate the important role of each of the broad streams of se condary education. In the Arts and Science branch academic pursuits held full sway - from a panorama of books and posters used to -dramatize the role of history to tape recordings of French students singing traditional folk ballads. The Business and Commerce brant'h, through its demon• strations of typing skills and business machines' man ipulation, was able to accentuate the link between the secondary school and the world of commerce. Pupils in the Science, Technology and Trades programme, actively engaged in projects throughout the evening, declared in tangible terms how very closely related vocational training acquired at the secondary school level is to the electrical, woodworking, and automotive industries.

A Student Council display, which outlined the function of p_upil self-administration, dominated the main floor area of the school. Council members and Mr. B. O'Rourke, staff advisor, were in attendance to explain how, through its many projects, the council was able to contribute to Glendale student life.

Special $_{\rm e}$ vents $w_{\rm e}$ re confined to three specific school areas - room 24, the gymnasium, and the science lab.

In room 26, history students of SA·IIA delighted their audience with a 20-minute parody based on the exploits of the Carthaginian general, Hannibal. The playlet, written by Douglas Mc-Pherson, featured George Ellis in the title role, and was performed under the aegis of history head, Mr. J. P. Morling.

Two events were main attractions in the gymnasium. A senior girls' interform basketball game was followed by a superbly executed gymnastics display, coordinated by Messrs. W. Coyle and R. Masterson of the Physical Education department. Students taking part included Don Chatterson, John Deeg, David Dodsley, Stephen Harris, Robert Louch, David Miller, and Mike Sitts. Jill Eacott, Linda Hennessey, and Rosemary Tilton performing individual manoeuvres, gave adequate proof that girl gymnasts can be both poised and effective.

Mr. Parker, science department head, however, provided the Open House with its most explosive exhibition, a miniature jet propellant which created almost car-shattering noise in a completely safe environment, room 31, as presided over by two student space chemistry consultants, Bob Varro and John Wiebe.

This jet-age display formed an effective et noisy climax to an evening which had been filletd With interesting sights and sounds. An interested visitor, one of many that had toured the school confided to a friend that the Glendale Open House 1966 edition, had, like the spectacular science display, been A-OK.

'102 And You'

Music, drama, humour and acrobatics were featured at our variety programme Thursday and Friday evenings of March 31 and April 1, presented under the title of "102 and You."

Our two masters of c_e remonies, Philip Aspden and Fred Burgoyne, continually amused the audience with light ban ter and jokes between acts.

The climax of the entertainment was a on e-act play, "So the Jury Was Hung," which showed how a jury composed of eleven women and one an could get farther and farther away from reaching a verdict as time went on.

The play, directed by Mr. J. N. Scott, included in the cast Brenda Boyd, Sherrill Pearson, Patsy Crawford, Betty Davidson, Cathy Davidson, Barbara De Visscher, Linda Van Dacie, Sylvia Dehe, Margaret Hussey, Elaine Hustler, John Massecar, Hope Mathes, Larry Stilwell, Patricia Nagy, Charlotte Young and Linda Zavitz.

Musical numbers $w_e r_e$ presented by the band and the choir both under the direction of Mr. H. Tromp.

Accompanied by pianist Barbara De Vtsscher and the SA·IIA music class, the chotr sang "Yestcrda,y" "Save Your H cart," and "Downtown."

Other musical numbers were accordion solos by Mary Lou Thompson, piano duets by Domba Dennis and Marilyn Priester, and "More" sung Y Elaine Hustler accompanied by Marilyn Pn't

Adding still more variety was the tum n including team directed by Mr. R. Masterson including Linda Hennessey Rosemary T-1 ton, Don Chatterson, Stanley Dan; on, David Dodsley, Stephen Harers, Robert Louch and Michael Sitts.

All members of the cast, directors, a structors of the whole stage crew and everyone in volved in planning the show were on stage for the finalc when the Glendale School song was $ g.t.

The students greatly enjoyed partic1pa ing io this show and were very happy to see sue h a large attendance at each performance.

The United Nations Club

The year 1965-66 is the first year in which Glendale has had its own United Nations Club. Most of the twenty members were new to this sort of group when they joined but a few had been attending meetings of the Annandale club the preceding year and had an idea of how such a group should function.

This being the first year of its existance, the main purpose of the club was to form a nucleus around which future clubs might operate. At the outset, meetings were to be held once very two weeks but in spite of good intentions, we were often lucky to get one in every three or four. This was because of a multitude of conflicting events, and the fact that a great percentage of Glendale's students are from out of town.

Nevertheless, I think that all members got a chance to sec what the purposes of such a club are and a few of the ways in which they are accomplished. The meetings were set up so as to give members an idea of world tre>uble-spots and the United Nations' stand or involvement in them. To give members a basic idea of the structure of the World Government was also an aim. However, there are about twenty-five departments in the body and most students were lucky to understand the five or six main ones.

Most of the club members had their init:al taste of U. N. debate when they took part in a Model General Assembly held at Annandale. Our club represented the official views of seven countries, us.ing as the basis for speeches, information found in newspapers, United ·Nations pamphlets, and literature mailed from various embassies in Canada. In March, we were lucky enough to get Mr. Wally Ne bitt, M. P., to speak.at an open club meeting. Unfortunately, since the 'U. N. head-quarters in Brantford had not learned of the existence of the Glendale club, we were unable to take part in the annual General Assembly in Brantford.

Next year we will be looking forward to actively participating in this event. At present, the club is planning to send two club members to the Western University U. N. seminar in June. with the help of the Student Council.

Mr. Surtees was the faculty advisor for the United Nations Club this year. The other positions were held by the following: Sylvia Dehe. treasurer; Larry Innanen, vice-president; and Doug $M_{\text{\tiny C}}$ -Pherson, president.

Ill the Roman gallery, we were given a vivid glimpse of the early Roman accomplishmel 1b. There were old lift 11 mural drawini-s reprecenting lift, in l'ompl'ii hdore 79 \land IJ. while Ve, uviu, erupled. Written 011 the hllidilg in Latin were 1, ulktin advert lill K 1-; lad, atorial fight, teleni, rn, and theatres. One section held many original statues of the Roman gods: Cupid, Minerva, Hercules and Mithras. On display were swords, javelins, the large bronze doctors' instruments and pipes of their central heating. The ladies' accessories were of particular interest to the girls. Curlers, ivory combs, bronze pins, and gold-pierced earrings were shown.

In the Greek galleries there were many demonstrations of the Greek accomplishments in literature and art. In one room, the faql0us Greek Parthenon was most vividly displayed. Friezes of the original Parthenon of men representing civilizat:on fighting centaurs were reconstructed in excellent colouring around the room. There were reconstructions of the well-proportioned Jonie and Corinthian columns. The guides using their knowledge and relying on ours related to us the history of the objects in the rooms and answered numerous questions.

As soon as we all f;nished thc,c tours, we rushed to see the Egyptian gallerie and the mmY cacs of mummies.

This tour certainly gave a great Illajl ity of 'a kt·cn < lesire In return to the R,,yal Ontario MullIII another year.

REMEMBRANCE DAY ASSEMBLY

The annual Remembrance Day assembly at Glendale was held on November 10, 1965. Solemnly the teachers and students gathered together in the gymnasium, where Mr. Moore commenced the programme with "O, Canada."

The saying of the Lord's Prayer was followed by the scripture reading of the 23rd Psalm by Ted Carmichael. Mr. Morling gave the Remembrance Day address and Wayne Rooke recited the ever-loved poem, "In Flanders' Fields." Sentences of Remembrance were given by Jim Ball. The period of silence following Mr. Moore's dedication helped us to realize the importance of those fighting for us and that we should be ready at all times to defend our citizenship just as other have already done.

Nancy Goodlett, our pianist, closi-d the programme with "God Save The Queen."

Christmas Assembly

This year's student council changed the usual skits and class pieces to a basketball game pitting the senior boys against the teachers. The final score of the game was 35-35. Mr. O'Rourke led the teachers with 16 points and Chris Coulthard had 8 for the seniors. At half time there was a programme. The student council gave Ivan Lockey an 11½-pound candy cane for guessing its weight. Two turkeys and an L.P. record were also given away. The school flag was unveiled and the Rotary Club was given $135.00 for the Retarded Children's School. The assembly proved to be quite a success.

THE ROMANCE OF CHEMISTRY

In November of 1965, our regular classes were interrupted when the grade elc, cn and twelve students had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Walkington, a public relations officer from Canadian Industries Limited (CIL), speak on "The Romance of Chemistry." Mr. Walkington first asked us, "Why do we study chemistry?" He then proceeded to explain that chemistry is used in our everyday life and that our many industries are revolutionized by it.

Mr. Walkington also told us about some materials that we use in today's products due to progTcss in the field of chemistry. For example, one of today's most useful materials is polyprothene, which can stand high heat and won't stain. For this reason, it is used in automatic dishwashers.

Another material is nylon, that stretches and irons easily and is widely used in today's clothin.

Recent developments have been made m clothing, imitation flowers, pop-it beads, toys and countle s other items.

Chemistry can also be a fascinating field io which one can do further research. As it leads o tee hnlca I and engineering fields as well as work in plants and la-boratorics, chemistry affects our lives greatly.

At the present, more and more people ae needed to teach chemistry. If this can be done, to-day's youth may someday prove, in the future, how greatly chemistry has benefited m.nk-ind.

Library Club

This year the Glendale LiL, ary Oub was under the direction of Mr. J. K. Scott, our new librarian. This is the first year that Glendale has had a full-time librarian, and he has proven beneficial both to the library and to the library club. Early in the fall, election of the officers took place with the following results:

President - Cheryl Priester Vice-President - Nancy Goodlett Secretary-Treasurer - Barbara De Visscher Decoration Convenor - Coral Bamford Social Convenor - Betty Seres Overdue Secretary - Nancy Goodlett

In the fall last year's members were taken to the Shakes-pearean Festival at Stratford where Jllliua C - was enjoyed. At Christmas time the library club gave their annual teachers' tea. At this time Mrs. Richards, last year!s librarian, preented the members of the previous year's club with awards for their services. The award winner& were:

Four-year award - Betty Magashazi.

Two-year award - Sharon Braun, Jo-Anne Crossett, Barbara De Visscher, Beth Foster, Mary Hawkins, Mary Mueller, Cheryl Priester, Karen Priester.

One-year award - Carol Bamford, Sharon Braun,

Spring Semi-Formal

AN EVENINC IN PARIS

The annual spring semi-formal was held on Friday, May 6. The gym was decorated for the evening with sidewalk cafes, on Eiffel Tower, the Arc de Triomphe - all truly representative of Paris and spring.

The band, Jaye's Raiders, from Toronto, provided the music.

The dance was well attended by students from both Glendale and Annandale, by teachers, and by parents of the students.

The high point of the evening was the crowning of the queen. Which one of the five candidates would win? Rosemary Tilton, Connie Epple, Till Eacott, Linda Schneider or Pat Odorjan?

At midnight, Pat Odorjan was crowned by last year's queen, Vicki Ruckle.

Public Speaking

This -, year Glendale lost its undisputed lead in public speaking with Annandale. We dropped from winning all four divisions to winning one. Winners in Glendale were as follows: Grado 9 Kirls, Bertha Hawkins; Grade 10 girls, Margaret Germuska; Grade 9; boys, Mac Pulling; Grade 10 boys, Andrew Baxter; Grade 11 and 12 girls, Sylria Dehe; Grades 11 and 12 boys, Douglas Mc-Pherson.

Oar winner in the interschool finals was Andrew Baxter, junior boys' winner.

CAFETERIA STAFF

We appreciate the many years that our caf teria staff have been with us. We thank Mrs. C. Langfield, the head of the staff and her staff members, Mrs. Sitts, Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. Chatterson, and Mrs. Butler.

These ladies have provided for us delicious, well-balanced meals throughout the school year.

We students appreciate this very much. The ladies have a large task ahead of them each day preparing the food for the two noon hours: 11:32 to 12:10 and from 12:10 to 12:50. May we extend our thanks and appreciation to these hard-working ladies.

Cadet Corps

Glendale's Cadet Corps will be carrying on again this year, living up to traditions set by the RCAC for over 100 years and, indeed, even some set by the Glendale battalion itself.

The RCAC has been in existence since 18£2 and in that time have provided thousands of volunteer troops for the fronts in the 1Bocr War and the First and Second Great Wars. It has also sent thousands of cadets to lppcrwash, Borden, Pctawawa, Kingston, Banff, Jamaica and the Barbados for summer training. The RCAC hope soon, ilso, to be able to send representatives to Australi:¼ for a summer. These training tours, some of them almost ,•xpensc-paid vacations, arc the goal of every cadet officer in Canada and arc extremely enjoyable.

Our own battalion, though only seven years old, has already set a high standard of quality. Last year the *battalion paraded a-bout 300 personnel of all ranks, and put on a show that surpassed all previous years.

The Glendale corps is privileged to have the honour of wearing the shoulder-flash and hatbadge of the Royal Canadian Regiment and the green beret and hackle of the regiment's Third Battalion. This Third Battalion, an army reserve unit garrisoned in London, Stratford and Woodstock, is Glendale's sponsor or affiliate unit. The R.C.R. is Canada's oldest and most honoured unit and carries even more tradition than the famed Van Doos or even the much vaunted Black \Vatch.

The unit has 54 battle honours, 350 medals, BS honoulTable mentions and 35 foreign decorations and was the person' regiment of the lat:: Queen \"lhoria. Tile regiment', colonel-in-chief:, the Duke of Edinburgh and is itself affiliated with two versy old and respected units of the British Army Regular. Obviously, this is a htstnry not to be scoffed at!

In 1s-year the battalion is offering training in rule, light machine gun, map using, first aid, hunter safety, and naturally, drill. We are also offering courses in range work to allow the cadet to attain skill with the rifle.

Glendale is a very young school and has a young and growing cadet corps of which it can be vor!Y proud. We of the corps shall continue to carry on in the best traditions of the Third' Battalion, the Royal Canadian Regiment.

The Science Club at Glendale was slow in getting started this year. After a rousing session of making soap the membership dropped considerably but the remaining members have been active in making apparatus and performing synthesis reactions. We hope to expand next year. Will you come?

To Our Advertisers

The ANNONA staff woeld like to extend their sincere thanks to the businessmen and merchants of Tillsooburg and the Tri-County area who helped make this book possible. Without their contributions in the form of advertisements and complimentary messages, this book would not be available to the students. We wish to extend oar thanks to you.

Thank You From the Editors

We, the editors of the 1%6 Aanona, would like to extend our appreciation and thanks to all those who made the publishing of this book possible. Without the co-operation and time received from Mr. Kuhl, the office staff, and Mrs. Oatman's typing classes, we still would not have the yearbook.

The students also took great interest in this 1,roject by their submission of pictures and articles about sports and activities. Our advertising committee did a tremendous job. Again, we thank you.

Heath's always take great pleasure in congratulating the Graduate. Many doors of opportunity are open to you. For each of you the opportunity will vary with individual talents, aptitudes and ambitions. But for all of you opportunity is there.

Whatever your aim may be, build solidly for success. Your future lies before you, like a sheet of driven snow. Be careful how you step on it, for every step will show. Always be at your best.
